❖ Desk Analyst Comments 分析员市场观点

➤ MEITUA: FV of the new 5.5yr/7yr/10yr USD bonds to be c40bps lower than IPT at T+130/140/150bps, respectively

Meituan plans to issue USD and CNH senior unsecured bonds (Baa1/A-/BBB+). We view the fair value of the 5.5yr/7yr/10yr USD bonds to be T+90/100/110bps vs IPT at T+130/140/150bps, respectively, in view of the current valuation of MEITUA 29-30s and its peers, with adjustments for tenor premium, heavier primary supply under the dual-currency program, and Meituan's near-term profitability pressure from price wars. See Table 1. The proceeds will be used to refinance offshore debts and other general corporate purpose.

Meituan is a leading platform for local commerce and on-demand delivery service provider in China. Its one-stop platform covers hundreds of local commerce categories with over 100mn average daily orders, and drives cross-selling opportunities from food delivery to in-store, hotel, travel, instashopping, to bike and ride sharing. Meanwhile, Meituan is expanding its business overseas. It expanded to 20 cities in Saudi Arabia as of Jul'25 and ranks among top 2 players, launched Keeta in Qatar in Aug'25 and in Kuwait in Sep'25. In Dubai, Keeta was launched in Sep'25 while Keeta Drone obtained licenses and was launched in Dec'24.

As discussed before, we view the current price wars in the food delivery sector in the mainland China weighs on Meituan's profitability. As per Meituan, it expects to incur a loss in its core local commerce segment in 3Q25. That said, we expect continued regulatory briefings and platform pledges to regulate promotions support a base case of orderly competition rather than a reversion to irrational price wars. In 1H25, Meituan generated revenue of RMB178.4bn and adjusted LTM EBITDA of RMB41.1bn. In Jun'25, Meituan's net cash position further increased to RMB120.0bn, supported by operating cash inflow, albeit lower, during 1H25 and lower total debts. Over the past 5 years, Meituan's net cash position has averaged RMB68.2bn.
