Anta Sports (2020 HK)

Fair guidance but decent inventory and margin

The sharp drop in inventory level for 2023 YTD is certainly a decent surprise, and we do think this is just the beginning of the turnaround. Backed by better margin improvement and net profit growth, Anta remains as our sector top pick.

- FY22 result slightly beat. Anta's sales grew by 9\% YoY to RMB53.7bn, inline with CMBI/ BBG est. and net profit decreased by $2 \%$ YoY to RMB 7.59bn, $5 \% / 4 \%$ better than CMBI/ BBG est., mainly driven by higher than expected government grants and net finance income.
- Positive retail sales growth and stable retail discounts in Jan-Feb 2023. Management stated that Anta and FILA retail sales growth in Jan-Feb 2023 were positive, far better than their original expectation, which is fairly decent given the high base during the 2022 Winter Olympics. Moreover, retail discounts in 1Q23 already returned to a similar level to 1Q22.
- Inventory to sales ratio was a major beat so far. Inventory to sales ratio fell sharply to a pretty healthy level of 4.5 to 5 months in Jan-Feb 2023, according to the management, vs over 5/ about 6 months for Anta/ FILA back in 4Q22, helped by: 1) more conservative trade fair orders since 2 H 22 , 2) cut in previous trade orders and 3) better than expected retail sales growth YTD. Inventory clearance will still be their top priority in FY23E.
- A fair FY23E sales growth guidance. Management is targeting 10\%+ retail sales/ listed co sales growth for both Anta and FILA, which is just inline with CMBI est. of high-teens/ $10 \%+$. In their view, FILA's growth could be faster than Anta, thanks to a lower base (FILA was hit harder with its higher Tier12 cities sales mix during the pandemic). We are also confident about FILA's guidance as its recent reforms are quite successful, including: 1) launches of more professional sports products and 2) more differentiation between the FILA core and FILA fusion, while Anta's growth will be driven by: 1) ASP growth, 2) more new and large stores, 3) surge in store productivity through DTC reforms and closures of more underperforming store, and 4) upcoming Asian Games 2023 in Hangzhou.
- But margin improvement is key to watch. We believe the OP margin can rebound meaningfully to $21.9 \%$ in FY23E (from $20.9 \%$ in FY22), driven by: 1) normalization of retail discounts, 2) absence of inventory provisions, 3) operating leverage from FILA's turnaround and 4) continual ramp up of other brands (Descente and Kolon's OP margin were $10 \%+/ \sim 10 \%$ in FY22). But on the other hand, we do expect A\&P expenses to remain stable (at $\sim 10 \%$ of sales) and so as the labour costs and R\&D expenses in FY23E.
- Maintain BUY and raise TP to HK$126.05, based on 33x FY23E P/E (up from 31x about to faster NP growth), about 1 s.d. above 5 years average of $26 x$, supported by $14 \% / 21 \%$ sales/ net profit CAGR during FY22-25E. We raised FY23E/ 24E net profit forecast by 3\%/ 2\% to factor in better margins.
